Regular check-up key to making everybody dental disease-free

■ Staff Reporter

DENTAL health is a reflection of general well being of an individual. Most of the systemic diseases will have their first appearance in the oral cavity, thus the link between oral health and general health is well established so with the objective of improving the oral health status of all the stakeholders of the Digdoh campus and later aiming towards dental diseases free society in large, the Department of Public Health Dentistry of VSPM Dental College and Research Centre has come out with a unique welfare activity under the name 'Dant Tapasani Abhiyaan'.

As a part of this program, den-
